TEN FINED AT LYNN FOR SUNDAY CARD GAME

SWAMPSCOTT RAID AGAINST PLAYERS HAS SEQUEL IN POLICE COURT TO-DAY.

LYNN, May 1.—Any gambler who may have left Lynn for Swampscott with the hope that they would have a free scope for their operations received a rude shock today when Chief of Police Samuel H. Harris appeared in the police court at this place with eleven men who were arrested in a raid on the Unity Club of that place.

TO STOP A GAMING.

"The Unity Club I have had under my eye for some time. Yesterday I got the evidence that convinced me that the law was being violated there, and with a small of men I went there and made the arrests. I propose to shut every other place in my town where there is any gaming."

31 SLAIN AND SCORE WOUNDED IN CLASH IN WARSAW STREETS

TROOP CHARGES CROWD WHILE INFANTRY FIRES WITH FATAL RESULTS.

WARSAW, May 1.—Thirty-one were killed and a score wounded in a clash today between the police and the people of Warsaw.

A crowd of several thousand persons, who were marching through the streets carrying red flags, was stopped by the troops at the corner of Iron and Jerusalem streets. The cavalry made a charge on the people, the horsemen using their swords savagely. The infantry also took a hand in suppressing the demonstration, and the soldiers fired several volleys.

NEW YORK, May 1.—The Metropolitan Steamship Company, which owns six steamships plying between New York and Boston, has been sold to the Ice King, said $3,000,000 for the line. It is understood that the new management will build several large ocean steamships to serve the route of the line.

Remarkable Scene in Closing Hours of Trial of "Floradora" Girl, Accused of the Murder of "Caesar" Young—Defendant Confident of Acquittal.

NEW YORK, May 1.—Amid surroundings that were probably never duplicated in a court room, Abraham Levy to-day began his argument before Recorder Goff and the jury for the life of Nan Patterson, the former "Floradora" singer, who is charged with the murder of "Caesar" Young.

The court room, jammed with women who were brilliant with the gay plumage of Spring and men who were eager to lose no word that fell from the lips of the lawyer who represented the accused woman, was intensely silent when the little attorney arose to address the jury.

MR. LEVY'S KEYNOTE.

"This is a circumstantial case," cried Mr. Levy. "A person is supposed to be innocent until proved guilty. We say that Nan Patterson has not been found guilty of this crime."

This was the keynote of Mr. Levy's address. It was listened to with the closest attention by every jurymen. The prisoner herself hung upon every word of hope uttered by her attorney. The big-eyed, gapping audience lost not a syllable of the lawyer's speech nor a facial movement of the young woman accused of the crime.

Mr. Levy began by declaring that the defense rested and then made a motion for a dismissal of the case. He said that the jury was not to be trusted, and that the jury was not to be trusted.

BURDEN OF PROOF NEVER SHIFTS.

"We are told that the burden of proof rests upon the shoulders of the prosecution, and never shifts to the defendant. The burden is with the prosecution from the beginning until the end. And that will be the theme of what I have to say, bearing upon the necessity of the prosecution establishing that murder was committed by the defendant."

FINE WORDS FOR THE JURY.

"I have at the threshold of my remarks called to your mind a full knowledge of your importance in the administration of the law. It behooves your utterance indicating that you will not be swayed by any emotion, but will be guided by the facts of the case."

WOMEN SPECTATORS REDUCED

As a result of a demonstration by the crowd of women before the court room, the court room was reduced to a small number of spectators. The court room was reduced to a small number of spectators.

Boston American Home Magazine

WHAT'S THE FUNNIEST THING A BABY EVER SAID

A NY winter dreary Boston is furnished by these bright sayings. Did you laugh at the columns of these sayings yesterday? Did you see the beautiful photographs of the winners?

Write your own sayings to the Boston American Home Magazine, 1052 Summer Street, Boston.

RISKY TO HAPPEN PA

The other evening, when I was a little bit of a baby, my mother was sitting in her chair, and I was sitting on her lap. She was looking at me, and I was looking at her. She was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?" and I was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?"

REIRKED PASTOR

I took my little girl, who was a half-year old, to church, and told her what to do. She was sitting in her chair, and I was sitting on her lap. She was looking at me, and I was looking at her. She was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?" and I was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?"

PREFERRED CHAIR

My father and I were taking a walk in the park, and I was sitting on his lap. He was looking at me, and I was looking at him. He was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?" and I was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?"

ONE NOT ENOUGH

My little girl, who was four years old, was sitting in her chair, and I was sitting on her lap. She was looking at me, and I was looking at her. She was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?" and I was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?"

TOOTHBRUSH HERKS

While I was showing my little girl, who was a half-year old, the toothbrush, she was sitting in her chair, and I was sitting on her lap. She was looking at me, and I was looking at her. She was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?" and I was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?"

PURE CANDY AT ANY COST

My little girl, who was three years old, was sitting in her chair, and I was sitting on her lap. She was looking at me, and I was looking at her. She was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?" and I was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?"

NOT HER BROTHER

My little girl, who was two years old, was sitting in her chair, and I was sitting on her lap. She was looking at me, and I was looking at her. She was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?" and I was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?"

"FUNNY KIDS"

I had a friend, who was a little girl, who was sitting in her chair, and I was sitting on her lap. She was looking at me, and I was looking at her. She was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?" and I was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?"

WHY SHE WAS NAUGHTY

My little girl, who was four years old, was sitting in her chair, and I was sitting on her lap. She was looking at me, and I was looking at her. She was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?" and I was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?"

ADAMS HOUSE, EVES, TO

While I was sitting in my chair, and I was sitting on my lap, she was looking at me, and I was looking at her. She was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?" and I was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?"

"NOT MUCH OF A GOOD"

I had my little girl, who was a half-year old, sitting in her chair, and I was sitting on her lap. She was looking at me, and I was looking at her. She was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?" and I was saying, "What's the funniest thing a baby ever said?"

TATE AND BRADY

By Caroline

Editor BOSTON AMERICAN:

Your correspondent signing herself "Caroline" makes the surprising statement that all men are fools. If this be true, she will soon be a fool.
